CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO PROMOTE CHRISTMAS DECORATING

Businessmen in the Bethel downtown area are being asked to deccrate their stores in order to help create a festive atmosphere during the Christmas holiday season. The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce began its lighting project last year when the removal of utility poles along Main Street made the installation of hanging decorations impos-able. To old in the decorating efforts the Chamber will again make strings of lights available to businesses through project chairman, John E. Graver.

S. A. D. #44 BOARD MEETS AT LOCKE MILLS SCHOOL

The S. A. D. 41 board of directors met at the Locke Mills Elementary School on Monday evening, Nov. 20, Dave Denison, director of Co-Op Education at Telstar, gave an excelient report on the program implemented this year. Thirty-eight students are participating, and there are 70 who have expressed a deure to participate. There are many employers who would like to take more students.

Basil E. Kinney, superintendent, reported that he had contacted a trucking company with regard to vehicles turning in the Ethel Bisbeo-School yard. The firm has promis-ed that any of their vehicles will cease the practice. The turning of large trucks in the yard has posed a potentially hazardous condition for the students at the school.

Mr. Kinney discussed guidelines for the implementation of a selfevaluation of the district's elementary system with the community, staff members and the State education agency being involved. He stated that such a plan would be invaluable in developing a five-ten year plan regarding the future of S. A. D. 44 elementary schools. Mr Kinney saul that at a later date he would request formal board action regarding self-evaluation of the elementary schools to begin in January 1973; to be completed no Leter than June 1973

The board approved Sherwood Jordon as a post-graduate student at Telstar.

GREENWOOD CITY

- Mrs. Collsin Morgan, Corres, -

The cloudy duck was warm, and smelled of wet earth and wet leaves. Then snowflakes began to drift through the air with feathery grace, white and pure. They traced the maples, and adorned the stubbles of the fields. There is a quietness that comes with snow, When Earth resigns herself to Heaven's will And puts away her brilliant autumn glow

To lay this winter white upon the hill." Betty Hunter Betty Hunter So we'll say again, "Howdy, Mr. Winter, we thought we heard your laughter about a week ago."

We saw you coming when the woods began to thin and the wind in this year, Thursday, Nov. 23, will blew strongly through the heavy spruce boughs like the sound of rushing water. We saw you when the dark shapes of geese with powerful wings pushed southward calling their haunting cries. We saw you in the short days, the leafless trees, the bills so blue and purple, and the slanting light; so "Howdy, Mr. Win-

With snow all around, the pond morning at six the breeze blew in little pulls beyond the shadows of thermometer stood at 20 degrees. We remarked about the open water At seven thirty as if by magic the whole pend out front even the channel was closed with thin ice We had never seen it happen that way

The chill makes one appreciate the warmth of a fire; around which man first built has home

And so November moves on Quiet and so November moves on. Quiet & comes to the land and Thanksg.v. ing to our country.

Thanksgiving is a Pilgrim,
And a golden ear of corn.
It's the smell of turkey roasting On a frosty autumn morn. It's the ring of love about you As your family gathers round, It's the table leaves extended And the golden laughter sound. It's Thanksgiving all around us, And we call our loved ones near, For we love the sweet reunion. That we celebrate each year." Paula Burn

The rejoicing and prayers of artthude by the Pilgrams was the first Thanksgiving on American soil In the year 1668, with the appointment el Nov 25 as Thanksgiving Day. these words were written into the Plymouth Colony Records: "It has pleased God in some comfortable

On Nov. 23, 1775, a day of Thanksgiving was proclaimed by the legislature of Massachusetts, The Continental Congress appoint ed Oct. 29, 1781 as a day of Thanksgiving, following Washington's defeat of Lord Cornwallis at York-In 1789 after Washington took his oath of office, he issued the first Thankegiving Proclamation dating Thursday, Nov. 26, as a day of Thanksgiving. The date has varied slightly-in one year a few years back the attended the open house at the president proclaimed the third Thursday - instead of the fourth Thursday, but the American people by the large, celebrated on the traditional fourth Thursday. So again be the American day of Thanks-

We have much for which to be thankful may we all observe it with unleigned devotion.

After reminding the Highway engineer again in October this work at the home of his mother, Mrs. has been done. They refused a request for a route number from Rumford Center through East Andover.

The annual report was read and accepted. With only six members this year the projects have remained the same as in former years. This year for the first time since 1938 meetings were omitted in July and August. The projects included Easter Baskets for all over 70 years of age in the community; donation to the Hope Training School; monles to the Calvary Congregational Sunday School and the Congregational Sunday School; donation to the Calvary Congregational Building Fund: contribution to the Dollars for Scholars; where needed; a May dinner for members and their daughters or guests; money award to a deserving their daughter and son in law, Mr. senior; packing a Christmas box for the Pineland Hospital and planning a 90th birthday party for a local senior citizen. Of the six members, Eldora Jones, Lila Farrington, Myra Crooker and Violet Swain had perfect attendance at the meetings; Barbara Meisner and Urfred Tucker missed only two meetings.

The secretary had sent out 27 get weil eards: 11 birthday cards; 3 birth congratulations; 4 anniversary cards: 8 servicemen's Christmas cards; 3 sympathy cards; flowers for one funeral service; 2 plants and a sunshine box.

The treasurer, Barbara Meisner, reported that receipts were for dues, selling a war bond, on Odds and Ends Sale and a Food Sale amounting to $110.40. Expenses included gifts to Hope Training School, $10 to two Sunday Schools: name added to Honor Roll: Easter Ban-Calvary Congregation Building Fund 1500: Sonior Award (50); plants and flowers.
